Partners Across The West

T. Wright Dickinson

Biographical Sketch, Northwest RAC Member

T. Wright Dickinson, a northwestern Moffat County Colorado native, shares responsibilities with his family in operating the Vermillion Ranch Limited Partnership, a commercial cattle operation established by his family in 1885.

A former Northwest RAC Chairman, Dickinson has dedicated over eight years to serving on the Council, initially representing Category 3 as an elected official, and currently grazing and agricultural interests (Category 1). Dickinson worked with both the Secretary of the Interior and Colorado Governor in 1993 in developing the RACs as we know them today.

Proper stewardship and continued multiple use of BLM public lands drive Dickinson's representation on the RAC. Recognizing the inseparable relationship between local communities and land-use management decisions, Dickinson is a supportive voice for local economies in rural northwestern Colorado. He is a former Moffat County Commissioner and active member in the Colorado Cattlemen's Association.
